STILE AND RAIL DOORS (WITH GLASS)

Stile and rail doors are a classic and elegant door type characterized by their frame-and-panel construction. These doors feature horizontal and vertical elements (stiles and rails) that form the outer framework that encloses panels or glass inserts. This design conveys a timeless aesthetic, allowing for customization of the panels or the glass inserts to suit various architectural styles. Stile and rail doors are prized for their versatility, offering both traditional charm and the option to incorporate contemporary elements, making them a popular choice for both interior and exterior applications.
